

Blank Place Value Chart

Label the columns yourself — whole numbers left of the point, decimals right

					.
					.
					.
					.
					.
					.

Fill in the headers for the range you're practicing — then sleeve it for dry-erase and it lasts all year.
Writing the column names from memory is itself the lesson — harder (and better) than reading them.